Blaser Mills Law recognises the importance of environmental protection and our ethical responsibility to minimise the environmental impact of our operations.

We are proud members of the Legal Sustainability Alliance and where appropriate endeavour to be compliant with the LSA's principles. In particular we will achieve this through our commitment to achieving the following strategic aims:

- ◆ Measure, manage and reduce the environmental impact of our business practices;
- ◆ Review and enforce our sustainability policy to align with good practice;
- ◆ Provide support and advice to staff on taking sustainable action and encourage them to become involved in environmental initiatives;
- ◆ Use our influence to raise awareness within and outside of the profession;
- ◆ Work collaboratively to engage in the public debate on climate change and to develop, apply and promote the best practice across the legal sector;
- ◆ Make a representative available to discuss our environmental policy within and outside of the firm;
- ◆ To embed good practice on environmental sustainability (including carbon reduction) through appropriate measurement and reporting;
- ◆ To regularly review areas for improvement within the firm and to keep up to date on technology and development that will aid the firm in adopting sustainable procedures.
